

WhitePaper

$ MICO

Why $MICO?

The main purpose of the Mico Token is to provide its holders with access to a fair lottery, with more possibilities than the traditional lottery and carried out on the blockchain, with all the advantages that that means.

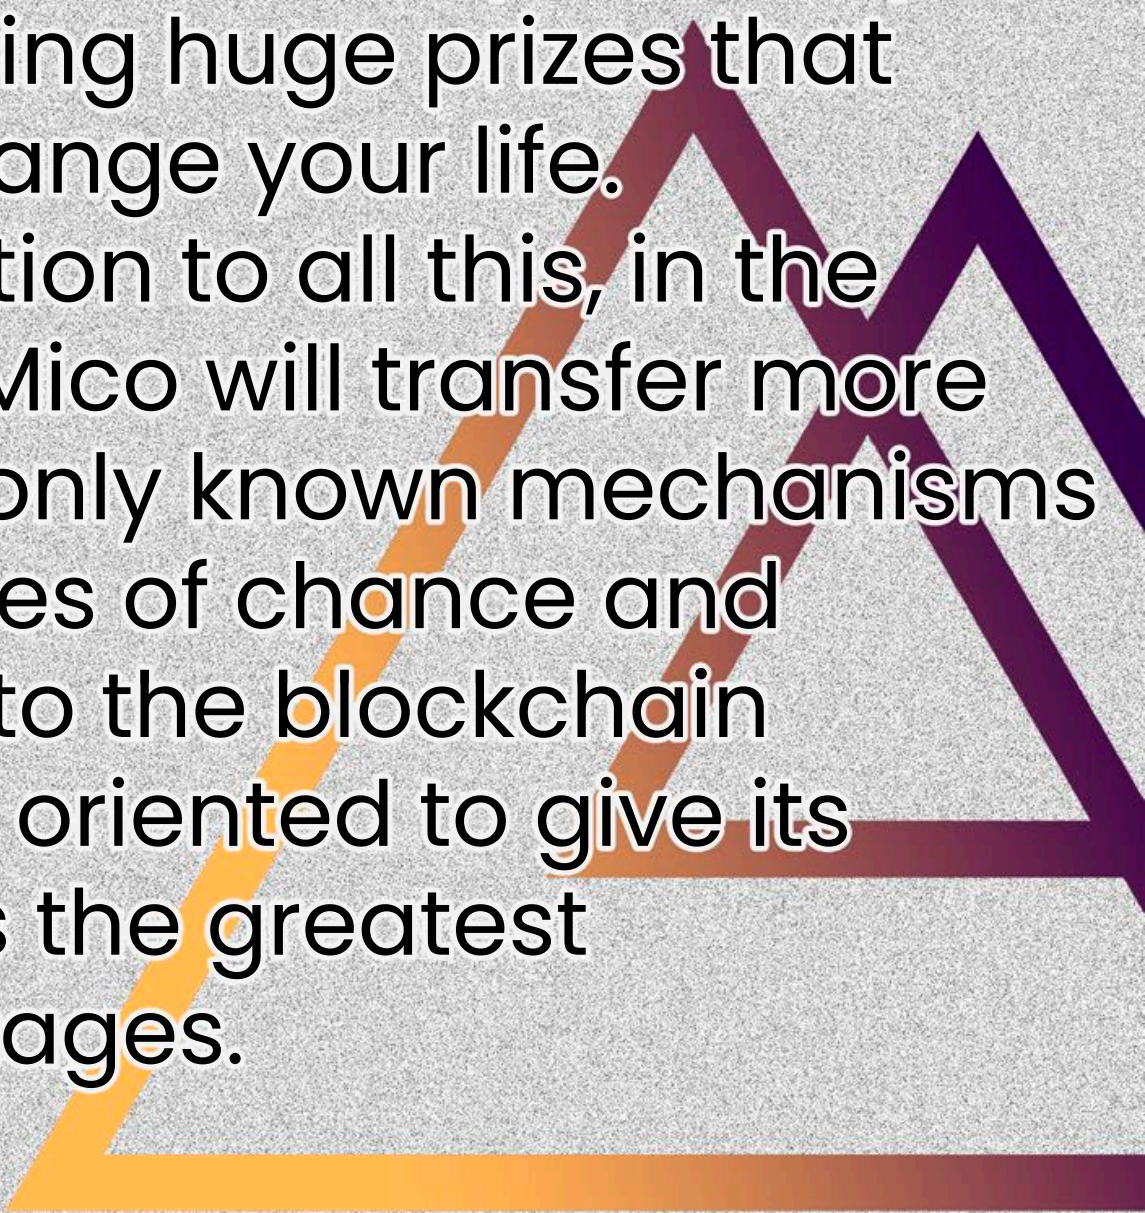

The greatest advantage of Mico is to reward the loyalty of its holders and holders through two paths, taking the meaning of holding to a level never seen before.

The first path lies in the self-distribution of tokens among all Mico holders, specifically 5% of each transaction, whether it is purchase or sale, the more Micos you have in your wallet, the more Micos you will receive and your investment will grow in an incredible way.

The second way that Mico has is the free lottery distribution among its holders, to participate you will only have to have Micos in your wallet (the minimum amount will vary depending on the market and capitalization and will be adjusted so that it reaches the maximum number of users) and interact with the linked publications, with which you can have the possibility of winning huge prizes that can change your life. In addition to all this, in the future Mico will transfer more commonly known mechanisms in games of chance and lottery to the blockchain always oriented to give its holders the greatest advantages.

A decorative graphic consisting of several overlapping triangles in shades of orange, purple, and red, positioned in the lower right quadrant of the page.

A mobile app will also be incorporated to part of the web where you can access a simple way to your total Micos balance, the profits obtained, automatic access to lotteries and games as well as the latest news and promotions of the platform. MICO has come to revolutionize the blockchain with a pioneering project that will become the benchmark for gambling and lottery in the crypto world.

The Mico token has been managed to facilitate the entire process of improvement, growth and distribution of prizes possible, thus remaining as follows:

50% of the supply has been burned, to facilitate the growth of the token and that the supply does not suppose a problem.

In addition to this burning, a percentage of the transactions will burn, the percentage will range between 0.5% and 1% depending on various factors.

5% of the supply has been transferred to the following wallet: `0x23A7d1683caDBd95b0A5C9fD3618cF635Fd34CA9` whose purpose is to supply the necessary marketing expenses.

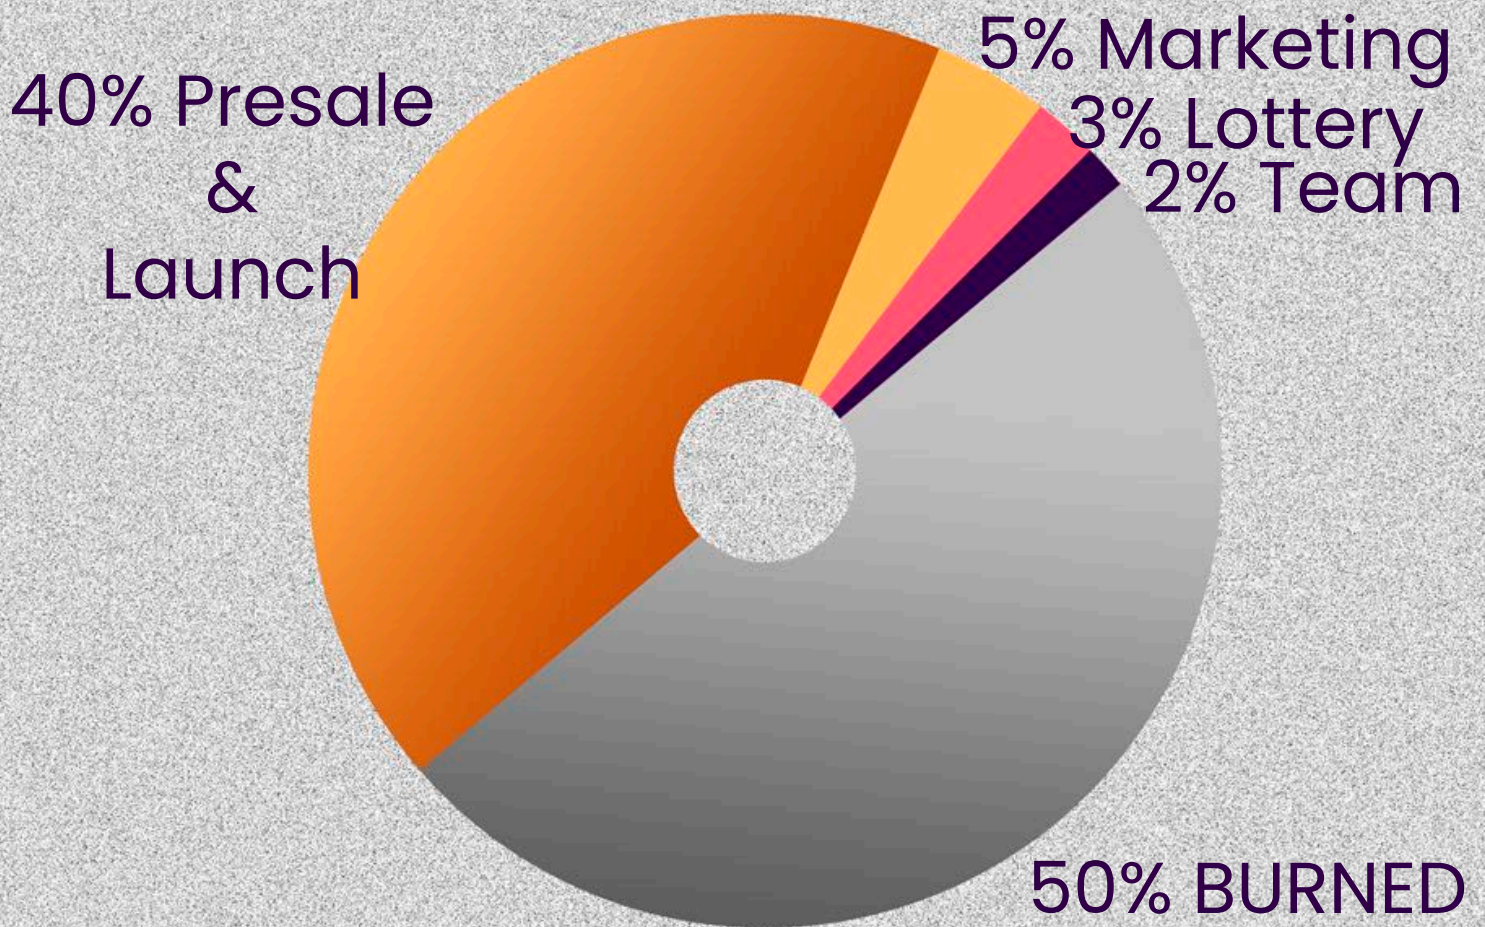

3% of the supply has been transferred to the following wallet: `0xbDB8659cebBE7f99BeEF2bE26303aD5161166bD9` whose purpose is to distribute it as lottery prizes, especially in the first months of Mico.

1% of the supply has been sent to two wallets the total being 2% for Mico devs.

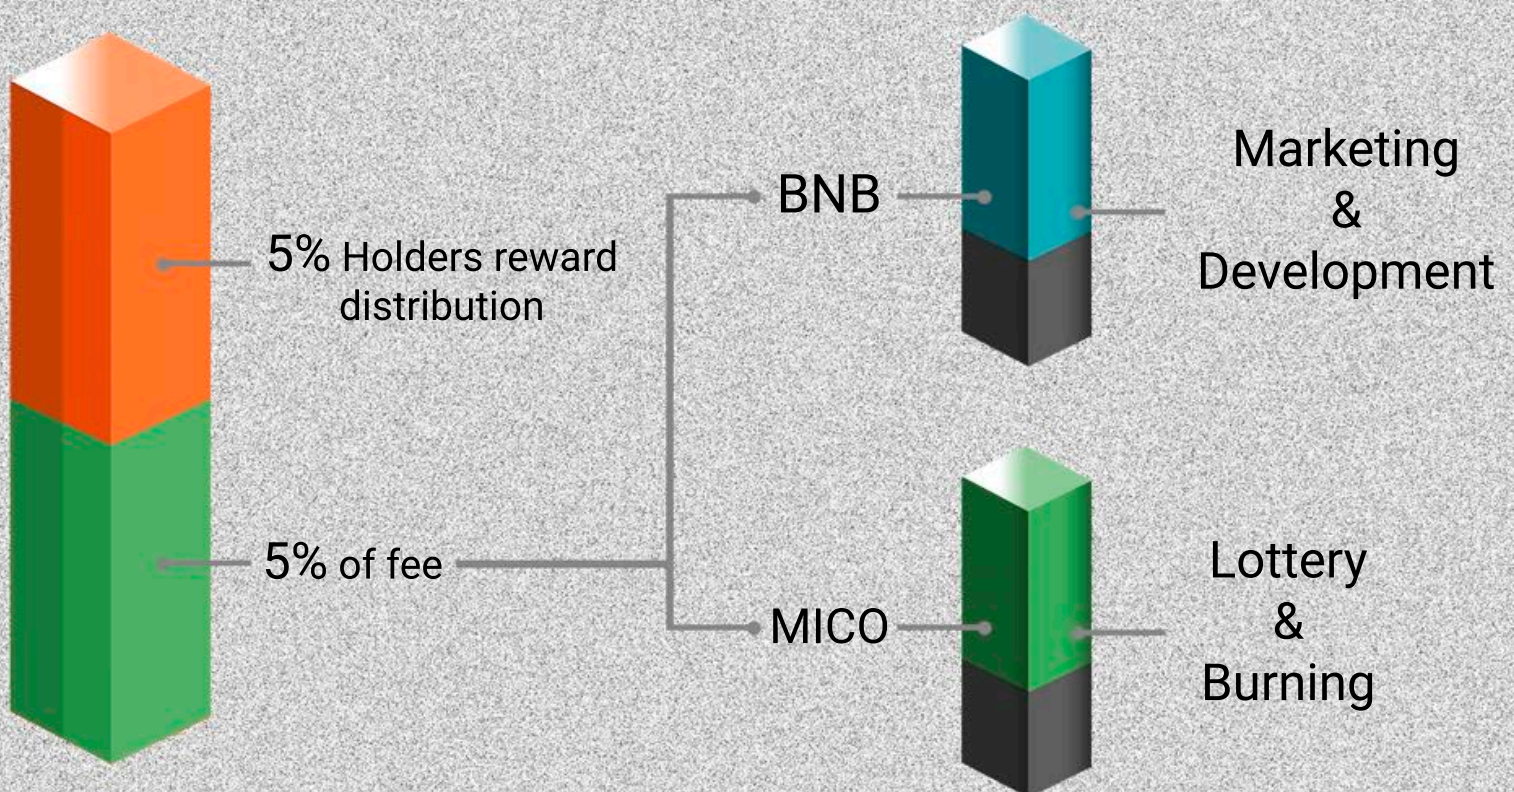

In addition to all this, there is a 10% commission on transactions that is divided into a 5% automatic distribution for all holders and the remaining 5% as commission to supply more marketing expenses, equipment and lottery and burn distributions.

The percentages will fluctuate based on the needs of the project at all times, since sometimes it will be necessary more marketing budget and in others distribute more lottery.

Supply distribution

Fees distribution

The Mico team wants to give all its investors the greatest possible transparency and make all movements clear from the beginning.

Thank you all for trusting in Mico and embarking with us in this great adventure

